

The Woman's Exchange
 Her Hair is Oily
 To the Editor of the Woman's Page: Dear Madam: My hair is exceedingly greasy and I have tried every other remedy and to frequent washing is doing me no good. As it is falling out I will be very grateful if you will tell me how to get rid of this excessive oil.
 S. M.

There is no sure cure for oily hair, but there are tonics that will help it much. Use a tonic every other night and keep massaging your scalp with the tips of your fingers. This stimu-lates the hair and helps the growth and keeps the time longer between shampooings. You are right, too frequent shampooings are not a good thing. The tonic will help you so that you can slowly extend the interval to two weeks.

A December Birthday Party Dear Madam—I am going to be sixteen in December and am going to have a party. I am inviting about a high and twenty-one. Will you kindly let me know through the "Woman's Page" what to do? First, how I should decorate the table and chairs. Second, what to do to serve. Fourth, what games to play.
 A SUBstitute for regular printed invitations with space left for the name of the event, the date and the name and address of the hostess. The first thing to do is to have a list of names for the list would be pretty for the center of the table, decorated with either cranberry or red dots on each branch.
 Pink and white popcorn, fastened on with pins thrust into the ends of the branches, makes a very attractive table.
 You will not need any decorations in the room, although the red and white streamers, which are so popular, are very nice. If this is an evening party with refreshments in the middle of the evening, serve ice cream, cake and coffee. Or if you want something more elaborate, you can have ice cream and coffee, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the games, as they are too long to give in the column.

Adventures With a Purse Are you going to have a family party on Thanksgiving, when the girls and their husbands and babies come for some of the tender bits of turkey and rich pumpkin pies? Maybe the neighbors will drop in to see you during the day, too, but at any rate you'll want the house nicely decorated, and you can buy some awfully nice artificial flowers for ten cents.
 There are sprays of fall leaves, and chrysanthemums and clusters of smaller ones, a large variety of which is most everything you'll want or need.

Of all complexion worries, blackheads are almost quite the worst. And large pores, too, such things make the world all wrong on the days we want to look particularly nice. A beauty specialist who knows all over for the success of her products offers a paste to be used like soap, which is guaranteed to do away with those very things, and is $1.10 a box.

A Color Year
 We are certainly not color shy this year when it comes to our evening frocks. Aside from the metallic effects, among which, by the way, is to be included the fashionable copper, we have approved of flaming color well up in the hair where bright yellow, green and deep blue have already been located.

LOVE NOTES
 BY KAY KIMAN

Kissing Kinks
 Contrary to prophetic prophecies, the greatest danger in kissing is not in the kiss itself. The trouble arises from the reactions of the kissed and the reflections of the kisser.
 Always it is well to consider whom you are about to kiss. Remember there is the come-back. And not always is it in the form of a kiss.
 And again there is the danger of kissing and finding that you do not desire a come-back. For it is easier to get or give the first kiss than to get out of giving the second.
 A yawn is a kiss gone to seed.
 History likes to repeat itself. But kissing is more progressive.
 There is the Bolshoi or red lipstick kiss which invariably leaves its mark. While, following this, are the Black Hand kisses of previous letters.
 Alas! It is one thing to get into a kiss and quite another to get out of it.
 Remember, kissing takes more than four lips. It takes forethought and fortitude.

Here Are the Oxfords Women Want—1800 Pair of Them All $5 Never have oxfords been so much in demand as they are this Autumn. Women are buying them to wear now, and to wear later with wool hosiery. Women are buying them because they are smart looking and because they are comfortable.

These Are the Best $5 Oxfords We Know We believe it impossible to find anywhere else such an admirable combination of good style, good materials and good workmanship. Tan and black calfskin and black kid-skin oxfords with military or Cuban heels and welted soles.
 The toes are comfortably rounded; the arches are carefully built up so that they give a comfortable amount of support, even though the heels are conservatively low. All the heels, by the way, have rubber top lifts already attached.
 All sizes in all styles; all $5.

 feta with silver lace bertha collar and silver flowers at each foliage, cording, ruffings and metallic lace.

 At $18, $32.50 and $35 are chiffon andorgette crepe ors and styles, including the new canary yellow.

We Have Obtained From an Importer His Entire Supply of French Beaded Flouncings and Bandings, and the Prices Will Amaze You These beaded flouncings and bandings were used on models from the famous French houses of Rene, Callot, Jenny and Vionet, and they have all the loveliness and distinction one would expect.
 Our purchase was so fortunate, on account of the importer's need of immediate cash, that we are able to offer these goods at half the intended prices. Nowhere else will it be possible to find such really magnificent bead work at these low prices.
 The flouncings are full 36 inches and are for the most part lovely effects in jet and sphynx, literally scores of different designs. There is some blue in unusually attractive effects. The prices are $3.25 to $6.00 a yard.
 Bandings may be had in jet, sphynx, blue and crystal, 2 to 10 inches wide, at $1.75 to $5.00 a yard.
 We advise an early selection as the value and beauty of these goods are bound to make them immediately popular.

 Ribbon-Trimmed, $5.50
 First lot we had took wings in a day, sure proof of their unusual prettiness and desirability at this moderate price.
 Made of a firmly woven silk-and-cotton crepe. The sleeves are "indicated" by edg-ings of shirred satin ribbon, and the neckline, which is turned back in lapsels away from the throat, is outlined with the same dainty trimming. A cluster of colorful silk fruit and a graceful crepe sash run through bound eyelets complete the excellent general effect.
 Immensely attractive, and the colors are lovely; light and Copenhagen blue, rose and purple.
